Logo shape
Making the film entries look like movie posters at a cinema. Relatively unobtrusive flavour, may use this for specific entries, but as a list it's better to go for the film reel idea.

Testing top bar. Should incorporate this to all desktop entries
Intended to evoke feelings of being in a cinema, but is way too detailed.
Simplified, trimming down on visual elements while retaining a vague sense of cinema. However, it doesn't scale well if at all and interactive elements would be restricted to centre or edges of screen.
Film reels as flavour for list form of movies, which works wel for scrolling elements.
However, the movie poster elements are all very tall, so I may have to make the desktop version have very tall film reels, while the mobile version may have to be cropped.
Also seems like it'll work for mobile screens.
Taller frames, and when hovering over an entry, a clearer title card appears, should the title on the poster be too elaborate.
